God needed me and I joined him today, so do not worry I am OK.

He has a lot of jobs that only I can do, he said I was the "Special One" of a select few.

We sat and talked and now I see, exactly what he has in store for me.

He needs a fast bike rider who tries with all his might and a video game master who can play into the night.

He needs a tree climber who's steady on his feet and a freeze tag player who doesn't mind when he's beat.

He needs an average scooter rider, not too fast, not too slow and someone at the starting line to say "on your mark, get set, go!"

He needs a fort maker, a "very good one" he said and a not so picky taste tester for the "cookies before bed".

He needs a good basketball player who reaches high for the rim and when he is very, very busy, a "Super Hero" to step in.

He needs someone with talents and a smile as big as mine and someone with patience to wait to see you again in due time.

I know this is a tall order for someone so small, and with such a big heart I know I can do it all!

So still be proud of me, my family and my friends,

For now I am in Heaven, as this my new journey begins!
